

TALENT ACQUISITION AND ITS INTERNATIONAL ASPECTS AND TRENDS: FROM ATTRACTION AND ACQUISITION TO RETENTION AND DEVELOPMENT

In cooperation with:

Deloitte.

In times of shortage of skilled professionals, companies face various challenges. One crucial question HR professionals are confronted with is how to attract the talent their company requires? What international channels can be used?

These and more questions will be answered by our two experts, Dr. Vlad Vaiman, Professor and Associate Dean, California Lutheran University, USA, and Philipp Kruse, MSc, Manager at Deloitte Consulting, during our next CINT HR event.

Being a leading international scholar and speaker, Vlad Vaiman will report on global aspects in the field of talent management and his first-hand experience on the international labor market.

With experience as a human resource expert and several years as a consultant at Deloitte, Philipp Kruse, MSc will give us his input on trends and developments in international talent acquisition and speak about the opportunities companies have during the recruiting process.
